Save 25 or 50 Per Cent.

To induce a greater consumption of our OYAMA UNCOLORED JAPAN TEA which in the past we have sold at 50 cents, we will, until further notice, offer it to you at 40 cents a pound.

This tea when carefully brewed is of unexcelled quality, and it is a fact that it cups better than many 60 cent brands which to-day are heavily advertised or peddled from house to house.

You get the benefit of the money, the other fellow makes you pay to advertise his goods. See the point? TRY IT.

BAD! BAD!! BAD!!!

Bad blood comes from bad digestion—bad stomach, bad liver, bad kidneys—attended with bad, foul breath, coated tongue, bad taste, bad headaches, bad appetite and kindred symptoms. Bad as these all are, and serious as are the diseases to which they lead, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery comes to the relief and cure of all these by regulating and invigorating STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and KIDNEYS, and putting all these organs in good order.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful drugs; neither does it contain sugar or syrup, which are injurious to some stomachs. Without any of these it retains its pleasant taste and marvelous healing qualities in the most trying climate. Don't let a selfish medicine seller cheat you out of your health by giving you a substitute. He's only looking out for a larger profit, not for your good. Shun him. Honest, unselfish dealers recommend the "Golden Medical Discovery."

"That your remedies are not for the few, but for the many is evident, for I personally know of many scores of persons in this city who have been restored to health and strength by your medicines," thus writes Henry Landsheft, Esq., Alderman in 17th Ward, Buffalo, N. Y., of 1204 Jefferson Street. "I know that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is most valuable in cases of derangement of the liver, having taken the medicine some two years ago when I had a bad attack of liver trouble, and I never used a medicine before that did me so much good. I have known Dr. Pierce for twenty-six years, and do not wonder at his success, for he is a physician and man of sterling qualities, is possessed of extraordinary skill and he has in his Sanitarium a corps of Specialists who are chosen because of their unusual knowledge and professional skill."

If suffering from any obstinate, lingering ailment, write to Dr. Pierce and get, free of charge, sound medical advice. He has the counsel and assistance of a large staff of expert specialists.

THE NEW LIBRARY.

On Wednesday evening the new $10,000 library, the gift of Andrew Carnegie to Redwood City, was opened to the public. Aside from the fact that it is a most handsome ornament to the city, the new library will have a far greater value. As a means of developing a love for reading among the young, a well equipped library cannot be excelled. A carefully selected collection of books in the home is to be preferred; but comparatively few homes can afford the variety of books that may be found in any public library. and a variety of books is essential. Don't be afraid to let your boy choose his own books. Don't despair because he does not at the age of ten quote Shakespeare freely and express a preference for Thackeray. Let him have his unbounded fill of "Ben, the Luggage Boy," "Peter, the Whaler," "Tom's Nugget," and the "Silver Skates." As he grows older his taste will broaden; he will himself unconsciously separate the wheat from the chaff. The point is to get him interested in books in the first place. And to perform this function of an open sesame to the vast storehouse of literature is the mission of the public library.

REDWOOD CITY'S PROGRESS.

Just one week ago to-day the work of laying the asphalt streets in Redwood City was completed. The event marks one of the most decisive steps that has ever been taken in the history of the county seat. For years the street problem has vexed the minds of the City Council. Every year costly experiments were made, different qualities of rock were used, with far from satisfactory results. The city kept growing, the traffic increased, but the streets were worse than ever. The traveling public suffered, the merchants suffered. There was already a considerable bonded indebtedness—a sewer system had been installed; a grammar school building had been constructed; a new highschool building had added to the tax rate. But the policy of hesitation eventually grew irksome and at the last election a bond issue of $100,000 was voted—$35,000 for water mains, $65,000 for streets. The improvements have now for the greater part been made; the period of experimentation is past and a new era of progress has begun—an era of progress which is shared in by all the rest of an immensely rich and prosperous county.

THE NEW LIBRARY.

Now Open to the Public and Is a Model Structure.

The new library is finished. The doors were thrown open to the public Wednesday evening and scores of people visited the new quarters and expressed their admiration of the handsome interior.

Every modern convenience is to be found in the new building. The main reading room is large and attractive; there are five large tables for the accommodation of visitors, and at night the room is lit up by scores of incandescents, giving the whole an exceedingly attractive appearance.

The library trustees are to be complimented for their untiring efforts in securing the library and for their good taste in furnishing the interior.

The building cost $10,000 and is the gift of Andrew Carnegie the steel king. Redwood City can now boast of one of the handsomest libraries of any town of its size in the State.

RURAL MAIL IMPROVEMENTS.

Each Route and Delivery-Box Will Be Numbered.

Geo. W. Lovie, our local postmaster, received on Tuesday night a copy of a general order issued by the Postoffice Department to all postmasters respecting the numbering of rural mail boxes.

For the public convenience and to facilitate the accurate handling of mail by rural free delivery carriers, it has been decided that each rural mail box in use on a rural route, under the regulations of the department, shall be designated by a number, and the delivery by rural carriers of ordinary mail addressed to such boxes is authorized.

The system is as follows: Commencing with the first box on each route as No. 1, each box thereafter will be counted and given its proper number in regular sequence in the order of serving from No. 1. Any box erected on the route after this numbering will be given the next consecutive number.

No non-weatherproof or otherwise unfit receptacles for mail shall be numbered. All such must be replaced with regulation "approved" boxes by the owners, or no numbers will be assigned. This is an important matter to be remembered by the residents along the rural free delivery routes if they wish their mail delivered.

There are 182 firms manufacturing approved private rural boxes, some of them making as many as five different styles. The prices range from 50 cents to $3.50. The list can be seen at the inquiry wicket at the general postoffice. All boxes of any of the kinds listed will be served.

The local offices are given thirty days to prepare the numbers. After that time the new regulation will go into effect. As soon as possible after that each owner will be furnished with the number for his box; and then mail matter should be directed to the box number, and to the route number as well, as each route will have the number beginning with No. 1. There may be, therefore, eight boxes numbered, say 52, as well as one in the generol office of the same number.

It will be important, therefore, for every rancher or rural resident to furnish his or her correspondents, both private and business, with the number of his or her box, and of his or her route, so that mail may come properly directed and not be delayed in delivery.

IS'NT IT TRUE THAT—

Of all the insidious
Temptations invidious
Contrived by the devil for pulling man down.
There is none more delusive,
Seductive, abusive.
Than the snare to a man with his wife out of town?

He feels such delightfulness
Stay-out-all-nightfulness,
Sure-to-get-rightfulness,
'Tis one's without pain;
A bachelor rakishness,
What-will-you-takishness,
None can explain.

His wife may be beautiful,
Tender and dutiful,
'Tis not that her absence would cause him delight;
But the damned opportunity,
Baleful immunity,
Scatters his scruples as day scatters night.

Town Topics.

After a few more bumps the automobile will discover that it is not its mission in life to buck a freight train off the track.

A man who narrowly escaped an auto was so surprised at his luck that he dropped dead of heart failure. The auto gets 'em comin' and goin'.

No longer can it be charged that President Boosevelt is a one-sided man. He has given ample demonstration of the fact that he is two kinds of a hero.

It appears to be generally conceded that President Roosevelt has gained more reputation out of the Portsmouth peace conference than any other man directly or indirectly.

DEATH OF G. C. BLASIUS.

An Automobile Causes the Death of a Popular Native Son.

George C. Blasius, of Mountain View, died Tuesday in a hospital, at San Jose, from tetanus, due to injuries received in a runaway accident at Woodside a week ago Sunday.

Although everything that science could suggest was done to save the popular young butcher, lockjaw in its most vindictive form set in and death in a most horrible manner resulted.

Mr. Blasius had taken a drive to Woodside on Saturday night and was returning home in the early morning. When some place between Redwood City and Menlo Park an automobile came tearing along at a 40 mile clip and frightened his horse. The horse made a sudden lunge to one side and overturned the vehicle, throwing Blasius out upon his face. The latter held onto the lines, trying to stop the horse, and was dragged a considerable distance, sustaining severe injuries to his face and one hand and arm. The buggy was smashed into splinters. A rig came along soon after and gathered the sufferer up and took him to this city, where his injuries were attended to and he came to his home in Mountain View.

The man's injuries were not at first thought to be serious, but evidently the germ of tetanus was in the soil, over which the butcher had been dragged, and lockjaw was thus communicated through the wounds made upon the unfortunate man's hands.

At the first symptoms of lockjaw, Blasius was removed to a hospital at San Jose and placed under the care of able physicians. Lockjaw would not be denied, however, and despite every effort to save the sufferer, Blasius died shortly after noon Tuesday.

Chloroform was used to control the terrible spasms of the patient and to ease his suffering. Blasius was 32 years old and was married. He is a prominent Native Son.

It transpired yesterday that the above story of the runaway is a mere fabrication to shield parties from a serious crime. The Sheriff's office is in possession of facts tending to show that Blasius died from the result of injuries received in a fight at Woodside. He received a severe thrashing in a saloon there and subsequently at another resort in this city.

He was taken to Doctor Ross' office at 4 o'clock Sunday morning. Doctor Ross says he was under the influence of liquor but not badly bruised. He said Blasius left the office in good trim. District Attorney Bullock attended the inquest at San Jose yesterday and on his return two arrests were made.

BIG SMELTER PLANT.

South San Francisco to Secure a Most Valuable Concern.

This county is to secure a monster industry, and the growing manufacturing city of Baden is to be given an immense impetus. The Call of Monday says:

The return to this city of E. B. Braden, local representative of the smelter trust, has been followed by a report, emanating from a reliable source, that the Guggenheims have practically selected a site for their proposed big smelter and refinery on San Bruno Point, which lies south of Hunters Point on the bayshore.

It is said that the point meets nearly every requirement of the trust, especially in the fact that the locality is so remote from the city and its populated suburbs that all objections against smoke and fumes will be overcome.

The site is said to include a sufficient acreage for all the needs of a smelter plant. Railroad connections is the only matter that is worrying the trust people, who are anxious to make their plant accessible to the Santa Fe line as well as to that of the Southern Pacific. The latter can easily extend its rails from its yards south of this city to San Bruno Point. In the case of the Santa Fe, however, it will probably be necessary for it to reach the property by way of the water, and in view of this possibility the smelter people are now figuring on extensive plans for dredging the water front portion of the point and constructing 3,000 feet of trestle out into the bay. When seen at the St. Francis Hotel recently Braden said regarding the selection of San Bruno Point:

"We have made no purchase, but it is very probable that it will be chosen as the site for the new smelter plant. It is a favorable location and in more than one way excels a number of sites on the east side of San Francisco Bay that we have had under consideration. We are not trying to conceal our plans any more than possible nor are we buying ground around the San Bruno property for any speculative purposes. A definite decision as to the purchase of the point will be arrived at very soon."

WRITER WANTS THE EARTH

Rakes Up a Much Worse Than Chinese Puzzle

And Passes It Along to the City Council and Board of Trade to Straighten Out.

EDITOR TIMES-GAZETTE—Dear Sir: Having been an almost constant reader of your excellent paper for upward of fifteen years, I have not failed to note your public spirited enterprise in your advocacy of those things that tend toward the advancement of our city and county. I have often envied the opportunities of the journalist in making himself an important factor in the development of his community. If in the days of my youth I had had the opportunities that are afforded the young men of our city to-day by its excellent educational system, I do not know but that I would be tempted to dip my antiquated goose-quill into my inkpond at more frequent intervals than is my wont. But as it is, my literary effusions are of necessity meager and crude, and I feel that it is an evidence of the most overweening assurance on my part to address this communication to you with the hope that you may by chance make room for it in the columns of your paper.

Having been an interested though silent observer of the progress of our city for almost a score of years, I have noted with secret satisfaction the steps which from time to time have been taken in the direction of advancement and progress. The man who, like myself, is by nature retiring and reticent, who prefers to stand back and instead let his more vigorous brother do the work, nevertheless cherishes a profound admiration for the man who is accustomed to do things. When, therefore, the silent man, like myself, comes out of his clam-like lethargy and with audacious temerity expresses himself on questions that engross the public mind, he does so not in a spirit of carping criticism if by chance he should make any suggestion, however slight, to the men who are accomplishing so much good, but he speaks rather with a purpose for the public welfare, and I hope that it is in this light that my present effort, should it adorn the columns of your paper, should be considered.

The subject which has weighed heavily upon my mind these many years is one which has occasionally been discussed in the public prints, but, it seems to me, with inadequate vim and vigor. Many times, Mr. Editor, have I had the impulse to write to you on this to me most important matter, but I have always held back in the hope that some pen more pointed than mine would come to the rescue. As I am now enjoying a few months of leisure I have allowed my subject to penetrate into every pore of my body, until now it fills my very soul and being. At times it so engrosses me that often I pass friends on the street without sign of recognition. I find that I must in some way unload the burden from my mind, and I already feel, after having rid myself of the laborious sentence which I have just written, that if I can only hold out long enough to finish this epistle I shall indeed become my normal self once more.

I find after this lengthy peroration that when I come to approach the subject itself, I am as usual at a loss for words. But the subject, Mr. Editor, is this:—the necessity of numbering the houses in our city and indicating by some mark that can be understood by persons who, like myself, are not mind readers, which street is which. The recent improvements which have taken place in our city have set every inhabitant aglow with admiration; the new streets and the handsome library, together with the substantial business buildings that are in course of construction, are true sources of civic pride. It seems to me that this one improvement which I suggest would, as it were, put on the finishing touches. I am aware indeed that there is in my makeup a certain quantity of that mystic compound called vanity; but believe me, Mr. Editor, I never can step into a new suit of clothes without wanting a new pair of shoes, a new hat and a new tie to go with it. Now that we have streets to be proud of, a library that we can brag about and a court house that is second to none, it seems to me that the matter of indicating the streets and numbering the houses is a most urgent necessity, even if it does reveal a certain streak of vanity.

I am not thoroughly versed in the science of government and hardly know whose duty it would be to follow up the suggestions thus so humbly made, but I understand that the City Council and Board of Trade usually take the lead in municipal improvements. If these lines should by chance come to the attention of any of the members of those bodies I hope that my words shall not have been written in vain; for this letter, Mr. Editor, has caused me considerable effort and although I by no means consider it a finished literary product I nevertheless hope that I have made clear my meaning.

I ask you, Mr. Editor, if you should look upon my communication with favor, not to print my name in full, but just my initial; for my friends have no idea that I ever had any literary aspirations and I am afraid that if they should find that at this late day I am writing letters to the newspapers, they would suspect something radically wrong somewhere.

Respectfully yours, E.
